IMPORTANT INFORMATION

The Required Beginning Date (RBD) is the year in which an IRA Owner reaches age 70½.

Death Before Required Beginning Date (RBD)

5 year Payments – Withdraw the entire amount by December 31 of the year that contains the 5th anniversary of the IRA holder's death.

Life Expectancy Payments – Distributions are taken over the beneficiary's life expectancy. A non-spouse beneficiary must begin distributions by December 31 of the year following the year of the IRA holder's death. A surviving spouse beneficiary can wait to begin payments until the year the deceased IRA holder would have been age 70½, if that date is later than the year following the year of death.

Death on or After Required Beginning Date

Continue Distributions – If the IRA holder dies after RMDs are required to begin (April 1 following the year the IRA holder reached age 70½), the beneficiary must generally continue or accelerate the required minimum distribution amount.

Note: Each beneficiary option may have tax consequences and/or be irrevocable. We strongly suggest that you contact your Tax Advisor to determine the best course of action for your particular situation.

You may be liable for payment of any Federal Income Tax due on distribution(s) from your Account, regardless of whether or not you elect to have taxes withheld. In addition, if your payments of estimated tax and withholding, if any, are not adequate, you may be subject to tax penalties under estimated tax payment rules. The general information provided in the chart below is to help you understand state income tax withholding requirements for Individual Retirement Account (IRA) distributions. While Millennium Trust makes every effort to obtain information about state tax laws from sources believed to be reliable, we cannot guarantee the accuracy or timeliness of state tax withholding information because state tax laws are subject to constant change and interpretation. You should contact your tax advisor regarding your tax withholding elections, and to answer any questions regarding your state's withholding laws.

Millennium Trust may be required to withhold state tax from your distribution based upon state tax law for your state of residency. Your state of residency is determined by the legal address of record on your account or as provided in the Tax Withholding Election section of the Distribution form. In some cases, you may elect not to have withholding apply, or you may elect to increase the rate of withholding. In other cases, state tax withholding is not supported by Millennium.

- You may specify a percentage or dollar amount to be withheld for state income tax by completing the appropriate section on the distribution form. Some states require a minimum percentage or flat dollar amount. We will withhold at least the state-required minimum amount when such a minimum applies.
- You may instruct us not to withhold state income taxes only when your state of residence allows such an election.
- For any states not listed below, Millennium Trust will not withhold state income tax even if instructed to.
- If you are required to submit your state W-4P Withholding form, it can be found on your state's government website not the IRS website.
