

An Alternative Strategy for Diversification

Diversifying your portfolio can help protect against market volatility and help you reach long-term financial goals.

What is diversification?

Spreading risk out across different investment types.

Here are a few things to consider when assessing your investment strategy.

What type of investor are you?

Your risk tolerance can be used to guide your investment decisions. The reward for taking on greater risk is the potential for a greater return on your investment.

Aggressive and conservative asset allocations could look like:

Could alternatives add value to your strategy?

Alternative investments are not correlated with the markets like traditional assets, which can help add diversification and protect against volatility.

Here's how alternatives might fit into aggressive and conservative investment strategies:

Did You Know?

You can invest in stocks, bonds and mutual funds, as well as alternative investments, like real estate, private equity and hedge funds, in a self-directed IRA, which can provide tax-advantaged growth.

Alternative assets are not for everyone.

Speak to your investment advisor to decide the best strategy for you.

Learn more at mtrustcompany.com

Millennium Trust Company performs the duties of a directed custodian, and as such does not provide due diligence to third parties on prospective investments, platforms, sponsors or service providers and does not offer or sell investments or provide investment, legal, or tax advice. ©2020 Millennium Trust Company. All rights reserved.

MTC 323
08/20